Automobile Contest

The standing of the various candidates in the automobile contest as at six o'clock on October 31st is as follows:

Mrs. Ada Baron	8,000
Mrs. Barringham	115,920
Miss Mary Black	1,000
Frank Celli	1,000
John Ciccone	1,000
John Dinney	21,077
Sam Giampietre	1,000
Mrs. A. Grant	401,040
Miss Eliza Hadfield	1,300
Mike Korman	1,000
Mrs. E. Macdonald	16,520
Miss Tessie Pisony	1,000
Pte. P. L. Unsworth	13,695
Tony Werkover	1,000
Harry Wheatcroft	16,685

There were three spoiled ballots. Two were for small amounts and were cast for candidates who had not been nominated by anyone; and the third did not have any name at all on it.

Messrs. W. D. Lawson and John McKeegan acted as judges and counted the ballots.

As is always the case in competitions of this kind, some candidates will be pleased as well as surprised at their success, while others will feel more or less disappointed. But all should remember the story of the hare and the tortoise and keep in mind the fact that the competition is not over, that it has in fact only just begun. The contest manager is informed that several persons have waited until the first standing of the other candidates is published before entering the contest at all. There is indeed yet plenty of time to win the car.

The figures given above clearly indicate that many thousands of votes were not cast at all for any candidate.
This should serve as a hint for the candidates to get after their friends before the next count is published, the date of which will be announced in next week's Bulletin.

Persons who give subscriptions for The Bulletin to candidates and do not receive a copy of the paper promptly should see the candidate to whom their subscription was given.

FOOD CONTROLLER SHOULD GET BUSY

Millions of Bushels Surplus in Potato Crop in Canada, the United States and Great Britain, but Price Remains High

Last spring every patriotic Canadian was urged to raise all the potatoes that he could, and now that the potato harvest has come we find that we have a surplus over our own wants of some millions of bushels. The United States also has a surplus, and Great Britain is said to have another surplus of 100-000,000 bags. Just what this will mean to the Canadian consumer we cannot say. At first Mr. Hanna threw out the suggestion that the price of potatoes in Canada be fixed at a maximum of $1.25 a bag; but there was a good deal of dissatisfaction on the part of the growers over this price, as they claimed that in Ontario it cost about $1.25 a bag to raise them.
Listening to these remonstrances, Mr. Hanna has decided not to set a maximum price, but simply control the "spread" in the price between the producer and consumer. Some of the growers, who had anticipated a much higher price than they can now secure, seem inclined to hold their potatoes, and as the season for moving potatoes cheaply is rather short, it looks at present as though next spring would find Canada with a large surplus. There are not lacking rumors of a potato combine, and the Montreal Herald and Christian Guardian of Toronto want to know if there is any truth in the rumor that twelve members of the Union Government are prime movers in such a combine. At present the wide spread in the prices between the potato and the town and cities does not look very good. It is a matter of unquestionable importance that potatoes be used this winter as a substitute for white bread, but with potatoes at their present price this will not be done, and if it is not done, not only will we fail to save our wheat for our Allies, but we will also in all probability see a great quantity of potatoes spoil next spring for lack of a market. Somehow or other this matter should be adjusted, if possible.

Encourage the candidates. Give them a subscription to The Bulletin.

OPERATORS OBJECT

The coal operators are far from satisfied with the recent order making an advance of 20 cents a day to the miners of District No. 18 retroactive to August 1, and it is understood to have been the subject of a hot discussion at the meeting of the operators' association in Calgary on Saturday. By making the increase retroactive to August, the operators of the district, will have to raise at least $50-000 to pay the men for August and September. As they will not be able to collect an increase for the coal sold during that period, this represents a dead loss to them, they claim.
They are much dissatisfied with the plan of making findings cover periods retroactive until it is shown that the men would be willing to have a cut in wages, should the cost of living be found to have decreased, retroactive also. It is understood they will put the matter up to government to have their grievance remedied in the future.

In the last issue of The Balletio it was inadvertently stated that the benefit concert was in aid of Mrs. E. Ash. This was obviously an error. It should have been "Mrs. Herbert Ash."

Is Sifton Still Trying To Run Alberta Affairs

A few days ago the Morning Albertan stated editorially that Hon. C. W. Cross was soon to retire from the Provincial Cabinet, and went so far as to mention the name of his probable successor. The statement was emphatically denied by both Premier Stewart and Hon. C. W. Cross, yet in subsequent issues the Albertan not only refused to retract its statement regarding the alleged contemplated change in the Cabinet, but repeated its claim and enlarged upon it.

There is only one explanation of this rather remarkable conduct on the part of the Calgary paper:

When union government was first mooted in Canada the Albertan in a decidedly out-spoken fashion declared day after day against any government under Sir Robert Borden and claimed that no government under Sir Robert's leadership could be elected. Such was the attitude of the Calgary Albertan right up to the moment that Hon. A. L. Sifton entered the new Union Cabinet at Ottawa. Then the Albertan promptly swallowed itself and became one of the most enthusiastic supporters of the Union Government, and is now lauding Premier Borden with as much energy as it formerly exerted in repudiating him.

In other words, the Albertan appears to have been elected to the position of chief mouthpiece for Hon. A. L. Sifton. This being so, its talk of a new attorney-general in Alberta is easily understood.

It is no secret that Hon. A. L. Sifton would long ago have let Hon. C. W. Cross out of the Provincial Cabinet had he been big enough to do so, and having failed to attain that end himself he now appears to be using his journalistic mouthpiece—the Morning Albertan—in an effort to induce Premier Stewart to do a thing which he himself could not do.

But The Bulletin is of the opinion that Hon. A. L. Sifton has failed in this case to properly measure the calibre of his successor. Premier Stewart has a host of friends in this part of the country—both Liberal and Conservative—who place in him a confidence they never felt towards his predecessor, and the opinion seems to be pretty general that Alberta's new executive head is too big a man to be influenced by a mugwump newspaper or politician with private axes to grind.

And it is worthy of note that from no quarter of the Province—outside the Albertan office—has there been the faintest echo of dissatisfaction with Hon. C. W. Cross as attorney general, or desire to have him drop out of the Cabinet, and as far as this section is concerned there would be much genuine regret should he for any reason relinquish his present position.

And one other thing is also quite certain: The name Sifton is more or less repulsive to a lot of good people of all political complexions all over the west, and if there is any one thing that will kill existing sentiment in Alberta in favor of Union Government—or create antagonism towards the Alberta administration—it will be the attempt of Hon. A. L. Sifton or Brother Clifford to influence or control our Provincial affairs in any way.

Sifton influence in any form is one thing which The Bulletin feels quite sure the people of Alberta do not want and will not tolerate.

REDISTRIBUTION

The redistribution act of 1912 becomes operative upon dissolution of the present (12th) parliament. The membership of the House of Commons will be increased from 221 to 235. Nova Scotia will have two seats less, being reduced from 18 to 16. New Brunswick is reduced from 13 to 11 seats. Quebec will have 65 seats as before, but Ontario's representation will be reduced from 86 to 82. The increase comes chiefly in the west, British Columbia going up from 7 to 13, Alberta from 7 to 12, Saskatchewan from 10 to 16, and Manitoba from 16 to 15.

Surely the food controller does not require any intricate organization to take Joseph Flavella by the back of the neck and kick him off the public stage. If the food controller could prohibit the sale of canned vegetables for a couple of months, then the food controller has the power to say that bacon must be sold at a lower figure. If our reasoning is faulty then we would like to have pointed out wherein the fault lies.

THE INSIDE STORY OF SOME OF GERMAN'S PEACE MOVEMENTS

NECESSARY PEACE OF SOME KIND BE SECURED

All Other Plans Failing, Germany is Now Sending Out Tons of Literature to Neutral Countries in an Effort to Put the Allies in a Wrong Light

While the exuberant and, of course, unwarranted demonstration in Germany over the naval engagement in the Skagerrak bay, for the moment, silence the cry which the world has listened to of late for peace according to German dictation, it is safe to hazard the statement that it is only a question of a few weeks, if not days, when that cry will be repeated with new emphasis.

The fact of the matter is that the forces behind Germany's persistent effort to promote discussion on the subject are far too potent to be overcome by the clamor of ultra-patriots in the German public.

The German press is not its own master. It is not only subject to a rigorous censorship, it is controlled by the desire of the hour, a syndicate of diplomatic and commercial magnates. They are but echoes of the imperial chancellor, and he is the servant very largely of the bankers of Berlin, the Rothschilds of Vienna, Herr Ballin, and the Burgomasters of Hamburg and Bremen.

All these represent interests that have made their will a higher law in the councils of state so far as Germany is concerned.

At their representation three months ago it was decided that a powerful and special organ should be created to co-operate with the diplomatic efforts of the imperial chancellor to bring about a settlement of the present standing of German arms.

They showed that unless peace could be secured before the autumn, the dual monarchy would collapse.

The bankers of Berlin declared that another big war loan would compel them to issue a perfectly fallacious paper currency.

Herr Ballin, perhaps the first civilian in the land and head of the North German Lloyd Steamship company, along with gentlemen whose names, told the Kaiser with brutal frankness that but for the aid given by the federal government to Hamburg and Bremen, those cities would have been on the verge of starvation last January. Germany largely lived on her exports to the United States.

Instead of $100,000,000 per month they were now barely receiving $100,000 per month.

Peace by one way or another, must, he said, be secured. Verdun must be subdued if it should cost five hundred thousand men. And order and industry and a new Germany.

Herr Ballin is credited with having informed the emperor that he would like to dream any longer of an eastern conquest. They must dispel that vision and face an ultimate disintegration of Turkey.

As the outcome of these and other conferences it was decided to concentrate upon a two-fold plan. The first was for peace. The methods may be summarized as follows: Diplomatically, Germany was to attack the Allies from Italy from the allies. She was to offer terms to Belgium, including an indemnity and the destruction of forts in proximity to her borders as an evidence of her good faith.

Her trump card, however, was to settle the submarine issue with the United States, and then, assuming that the Crown Prince had put an end to the struggle, to solicit President Wilson to submit tentative peace terms to Great Britain and France in particular, in the hope that they would be accepted and thereby enable Germany to regain her prestige among the nations she had unfortunately estranged by her aggressiveness.

Other moves were to be attempted, and included assailing the Danubians, becoming an international waterway, providing the sovereignty of Turkey was maintained.

Then, what is not generally known, a new organization was formed under the direction of the notorious Wolff Press Bureau to articulate all these lines in the United States, Spain, Holland, South America and Scandinavia.

Tons of literature are being printed, books with new "facts" as to the genesis of the war, magazine articles written as far as possible by known writers, professionally not too friendly to German ideas, but well enough sprinkled with disturbing argument and statement to make the allies appear as if fighting for a mere brute conquest of the fatherland. The role of Bryan with a mixture of Maximilian Harden, was to be the model for these writers.

A special staff of 200 men and women were selected for "special work." Two thousand local correspondents were named. The list of these has been seen.

The bankers' association is generally credited with the success of the plan. The funds necessary to meet the outlay required to make the campaign a success.

Several well known publishers are alleged to have been roped into the effort, and one in particular shown documents that will be annotated by "experts" and made to appear from time to time as "revelations" of the machinations of Great Britain. Already, Holland was to become the center—if it has not already become so—of a new movement to bring about peace between Great Britain and the United States.

So far the Berlin organizers are quite well known to the allies, and it may be assumed that they are not idle. Hitherto, however, Germany has relied upon the advantages of British diplomacy to utilize the press for counter-attacking her diplomacy. But the fact Sir Edward Grey has just given official countenance to a press interview, and interview, and interview, used the same medium to set forth the British view on the blockade, may be accepted as signs that Great Britain will not be without a reply to this "peace" attack by her enemies.

Getting Through the Wire

The Entanglements of Wire Cutting is Described

An officer gives this vivid description of his experiences:

"We could not find a place to get through the wire, and had to go straight for it, though we knew we had to struggle and fight our way through an entanglement of from fifteen to thirty feet made of wire interwoven in a most evil mesh. However, we struggled on as best we could, helping each other, and after what seemed an eternity broke through with many cuts and scratches, but lost nothing but a few pieces of coats and a few pieces of our own clothes."

"Our difficulties then increased. Having turned round so many times to get through the wire, we had to go back to the direction of our own trenches for a few moments, and then we went on to the next wire, and so it went, until we were at once all three watching the flare lights going up before we were satisfied by some constant whizzing of the bullets from the enemy machine guns about our ears."

"So we crawled along again in front of the wire, hoping to find an entrance, and at once all three of us went headlong into a deep cut filled with water."

"Here, again, we had difficulty finding a passage through, which was rendered all the more trying by the constant whizzing of the bullets from the enemy machine guns about our ears."

"We crawled along again in front of the wire, hoping to find an entrance, and at once all three of us went headlong into a deep cut filled with water."

"The wire was so close that it had been cut out and cleverly covered with branches and twigs, so that it was not possible to see through it. There was about nine feet down, but although we got a good ducking we managed to get under the entanglements, and cut our own trench."

Sniping a Recreation

A Canadian soldier tells of his experience as a sniper. "It is one way," he says, "among two few ways, of getting out of the trench life. I have been a sniper. Sniping is another way to break the terrible monotony of trench life. I have spent a whole day in the trench, and that way the operations of the men in the trenches."

"The soldier at the front does three times the amount of work at night that he does in the daytime. In ordinary trench life, a day is quiet, with little firing except that of the machine guns; and few men are wounded or killed."

No Shirkers in France

A French government report shows the whole nation, men and women, virtually giving their lives to the war. Of every 20 Frenchmen six or seven are actually under arms or engaged in manufacturing munitions. The unit of 20 is composed of the following:

1. Aged or infirm.
2. Small children.
3. Boys at school.
4. Young men under military age either studying or working.
5. 4 to 5 soldiers mobilized.
6. 1 to 2 men working in munition factories.
7. Engaged in agriculture.
8. Unemployed working men or clerks.

Taxes in United Kingdom

The coffee, cocoa and tea duties levied under the British war taxation scheme have been reduced so as to secure uniformity of burden among the users of the beverages made from the articles. Coffee and cocoa are to pay 4 shillings a ton, and tea 2 shillings a pound. These are heavy rates of taxation, whether equitable or not. The levies are paying his part of the war cost as well as the fellow who drinks beer.—Montreal Gazette.

"Where do you intend to go this summer?" "I'm going to stay at home," replied Mr. Dustin. "My family's going away, and I'm going to embrace the opportunity to sit in my armchair and read the papers in the best rooms in the house."—Washington Star.

"Ah! A package of old love letters tied sound with a faded pink ribbon. I could shed tears at the sight of them," said a young man, holding a resigned voice from the next room. "Well, Molly, what are you doing now?" "I ain't doing nothin', 'cept it's done."

High Prices for Irish Cattle

Irish Farmer is Profiting by the High War Prices

The war has brought to the Irish farmer, abounding in agricultural property, says the Vice-President of the Irish Agricultural Department, the prices for Irish cattle have risen to a very high level. For Irish butchers in good condition as much as $280 has been paid within the past month. An average price for Irish cattle in the past has been $150. Owing chiefly to the requirements of the army, and record prices have been paid for Irish cattle in the past. A rare abundance of grass in the fattening districts of England has led to an abnormal demand for Irish cattle, for which the English farmers are paying exceptionally high prices. The demand for Irish cattle is so great that the Irish farmer is now able to dictate prices. It is an interesting fact that generally the Irish farmer is not a speculator, but a practical man. 1. The placing of prisoners as a shield before the troops; second, the use of arms prohibited by international convention; third, "massacre of the wounded"; fourth, the firing on ambulance and sanitary corps.

The western provinces are doing a noble job in the empire in raising their wonderful crops. To get them in from the land the farmers are crying as is the Empire. "Men and more men" is the cry. The Empire is loaded with young men who are following a calling of nature that has been put in them. The Empire will not suffer. In this respect we agree with the Regina Leader when it calls for the recruitment of a national unit to continue to recruit as in the past. National registration, with the calling of the men in classes, would draw heavily on the thickly populated centres. The great Empire saving grain growing industry of the West will then be asked to do but their share. Today she has done more than her share.

London Street Wail Honored by Russian Government

An orphan lad, brought up by one of the Poor Law Institutions of London, England, has distinguished himself in the service of his country. Alfred Doe, the surname shows that his parentage was doubtful, is only sixteen years of age, and when fourteen he was handed over to the navy for scouting purposes along the coast of the standard health required. But his solicitations to "do something" were so manifestly sincere that the decision was waived, and his chance came.

He was sent to Lowestoft and landed on board a frigate. The frigate had the misfortune to strike a mine and was blown up. Young Doe showed special presence of mind, helped a sailor who was in danger of drowning, and cheered older men to hold on till relief came to the frigate. He was patting on the back for his gallantry and showed some consideration on reaching land.

Since then he has been on minesweeping duty in the Baltic and is now so conspicuous in the White Sea that the Russian Government awarded him a silver medal, which decoration carries with it the Order of St. Ann.

On reaching Hull the naval officer at the harbor asked what he would like as a reward for his service, and he replied: "A week round about Cumberland Green, sir," which is the name of the old Poor Law South London, near where the lad was born. The story runs that Doe was the only one of the old Poor Law Guardians and "speeched" over. Doe, however, once more showed his devotion to the great cause by inducing a bunch of lads to volunteer for what he calls the "best kind of scavenger work out of London," mine-sweeping on the North Sea!

SALES OF HOMESTEADS IN ACTIVE SERVICE IS MADE CLEAR

AMPLE PROTECTION IS AFFORDED TO ABSENTEES

A Canadian Volunteer Holding a Homestead May Count His Active Service as a Performance of Residence—Should He be Disabled May Receive Patent Forthwith

There have been innumerable inquiries at Ottawa as to the status of homesteaders who have enlisted for active service. As there have been many rulings by the department and men from all parts of the Dominion are interested in these various rulings, a summary is of interest.

The Dominion Lands Act as it stands makes certain provision for military service. Section 22 of the act provides that a Canadian volunteer holding a homestead may count his active military service as a performance of residence. Section 23 of the act provides that any such volunteer who is disabled by wounds or illness, while on active service, may receive patent forthwith.

To supplement these provisions orders-in-council were passed in May and September of 1915 providing that when an enlisted Canadian volunteer holding a homestead is called up to the service without calling upon the heirs to perform any part of the homestead duties and without requiring a formal application for patent or the filing of letters of administration, the patent, when issued, will be forwarded to the registrar for the district in which the land is situated and it would then rest with the heirs to obtain the necessary authority from the courts to deal with the land.

Shortly after the outbreak of war there arose the question of extending the same privileges to British and foreign reservists. In May, 1915, an order-in-council was passed to that effect. The wording of this order being somewhat ambiguous and a question of its interpretation having been raised, the department was asked in September of the same year. This authorized not only that all privileges granted to Canadian soldiers should be extended to British reservists fighting on the side of Great Britain and the Allies of Great Britain, but that the duties or the land should be performed without calling for the performance of any further duties and without requiring an application for patent, and that the heirs should be required to obtain the necessary authority from the courts to deal with the land.

Under the Dominion Land Act prior to his enlistment, Bridge guards are treated in the same way. Until recently protection could not be granted to an unprotected proxy, and such entry had to be cancelled at the end of six months from the date thereof as called for by the regulations. In the case of an unprotected proxy entry made before enlistment being cancelled for statutory reasons, the land was to be reserved from settlement during the continuance of the war. In the case of the proxy proxy entries made after enlistment, the entries were to be cancelled at the end of six months from the date of entry the same was cancelled, and the land made available for settlement.

Recent orders have amended these regulations. The orders provide that all existing proxy entries made by volunteers are to be protected from cancellation provided the fact of enlistment is shown. The orders are known to the agent in time to prevent cancellation under the ordinary proxy regulations.

Shells Were Exploding on Every Square Yard

A Canadian officer in one of the Western Bataillons, details some of his experiences in connection with one of his heaviest bombardments at St. Eloi:

"As an example of human endurance, how is this? After the heat of this crater business was over—that is to say, after four days' bombardment—and we were relieved, altogether ten days passed—this one of our fellows was picked up outside the lip of one of the craters. He was lying on the ditch, and he was delirious. I lay down beside him, and he said, 'I suppose I'm in England and doing well. It would be hard to believe, but I know it was so.'"

"Just now, as I am writing, it is a lovely day; no sound of guns no Red Cross motors and the band is playing, and the first line trench, which was on top of a little hill, crater was only a few feet high, and could look down on the bombardment, which was again very fierce."

Almost Unlimited Supply Available for Lumber and Pulp

British Columbia mills have a possible output of 2,500,000,000 feet per annum of lumber, according to an estimate made by the Victoria Colonist. Pulp and paper mills when fully in swing will be able to supplement the products of the east and probably indefinitely supply the demand for paper. In the years 1912 to 1914 not more than five per cent of the foreign lumber export trade on the Pacific was handled from British Columbia ports, notwithstanding the natural resources of this province, which are greater than all the States to the south. The figures, therefore, show that British Columbia, which is in a position to supply the major portion of the demand, is as yet only a small minority in actual trade.

Admiring Stable Help

Kindness and Gentleness are Essential at All Times

Every conscientious dairyman knows from experience how difficult it is to secure in his hired help men who at all times will treat his animals with consideration. The dairy cow has been called a machine—and is a very true sense she is such. But a cow cannot be treated like a machine. She is a bundle of nerves. The disturbance of her nervous equilibrium upsets her production. For this reason kindness and gentleness are essential to place in the dairy stable. Kindness and gentleness are essential at all times. Years ago a certain dairyman put up a printed notice in his stable urging his men to practice patience with his animals. The sign is still there, and it is observed by the men who come and go on this particular farm. It reads as follows: "The rule to be observed in the dairy stable at all times towards the old, young and old, is that of patience and kindness. A man's usefulness in a herd ceases at once when he loses his temper and belittles rough usage. Men must be patient. Cattle are not reasoning beings. Remember that this is the Home of Motherhood. Treat each cow as a mother should be treated. The giving of milk is a function of motherhood, and rough treatment lessens the flow. That injures me as well as the cow. Always keep these ideas in mind in dealing with my cattle."—O. C. in Successful Farming.

How the Anti-Aircraft Guns Get the Range

A pilot flying over the lines uses all sorts of tricks to deceive the watchers below. Under normal circumstances they can tell his height to a few feet, and will show, too, that they know it by the way they rise up the burst. "Archie" (anti-aircraft gun), indeed, no matter whether you cross the lines one day at 8,000 ft. and another at 10,000 ft., and another at 14,000 ft., to sure as you get within range there are the six slowly widening rings of smoke. "Archie" are generally grouped in lines, and their chief object is to cause a barrage and annoyance, men have been brought down by "slighters" and by direct hits at 15,000 ft. from one of those fast ones.

The "Archie" gunner judges height by measuring the apparent size of the machine's wings as it approaches. He knows every machine at a glance at 10,000 yards distance and farther. He gets plenty of practice. He knows the measurements of every machine and its speed and can allow for it. The Hun "Archie" gunner has reason to be particularly efficient—he gets so much practice.

Meat Shortage in Britain

Declining Scale of Prices on Livestock Expected to Relieve the Condition

The extent of England's present meat shortage is shown in the summary for July of meat passing through Smithfield market, England's great distributing center, received by the United States food administration.

The total July receipts amounted to 20,802 tons, as compared with 23,924 tons in the same month of 1918, 29,597 tons in July, 1915, and 36,720 tons in July, 1914, or a decrease of 43 per cent, as compared with 1914.

This shows the regular and marked decline that has taken place in the meat supply of England. A comparison of the first seven months of 1917 with the same months in 1914 shows that the present supply is less than two-thirds of the pre-war normal.

The declining scale of prices on live stock adopted in Great Britain is expected to relieve this condition. It is expected that meat passing through Smithfield for September is $17.76 per 100 pounds, for October $17.28, for November and December $16.68, and for January $14.40.

It was expected that this decreasing ratio of prices will bring out the cattle ready for market in great numbers. The shortage of fodder in Holland is also expected to cause a considerable supply of meat from that country. Large numbers of the Holland cattle will be sent to the other side of the Atlantic.

A man's usefulness in a herd ceases at once when he loses his temper and belittles rough usage. Men must be patient. Cattle are not reasoning beings. Remember that this is the Home of Motherhood. Treat each cow as a mother should be treated. The giving of milk is a function of motherhood, and rough treatment lessens the flow. That injures me as well as the cow. Always keep these ideas in mind in dealing with my cattle."—O. C. in Successful Farming.

Keep Only the Best Cows

The Profitable Cow Must Give 5,000 Pounds of Milk a Year

James Beag, of Southwell, writes in the Canadian Countryman: "With regard to profit from cows at the present price of milk, I figure that at $1.80 per hundred a cow, to leave a margin of profit, should at the very lowest, give 5,000 pounds per 10 months; 6,000 pounds is a lot better, and there is no reason why it cannot be done."

The multiple keynote of the cow question is the scrub bull, whether he be peddler or not. A few dollars are nothing; get one whose ancestors have made good and you will soon pass the 6,000 pound mark. Set your mind on the 10,000 pound cow, make up your mind to learn how to feed. This type of cow wants good feed the year round, whether she be milking or dry.

"I never bought but one thin cow in my experience—14 look she ate six months to get any heart in her, and the milk was on the wane. The next year, however, she was one of my best."

"When your cows are to make good, count on the cost of the feed at the very least at $75 per year, and more if the cow will pay for it. I have no difficulty in making my two-year-olds do 7,000 pounds and my mature cows 10,000 pounds, and you can do the same."

"Get a set of scales and a weigh sheet. It will not take a week or 10 seconds to weigh and jot down the weight. Then use the Babcock and you will be surprised to see how soon you will get the good ones. Breed from the good ones and do not forget the bull question—first last and all the time."

CUTICURA HEALS ITCHING PIMPLES

On Face. Badly Disfigured. Used 2 Boxes Ointment and 3 Cakes Soap.

"I had a bad itch lot of pimples on my face which made it badly disfigured. They were inflamed and came to a head, and I could not wear my skin as soon as a little hole came near them. I could hardly sleep.

"When I saw Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised I sent for a free sample which did so much good that I bought more, and I used two boxes of Cuticura Ointment and three cakes of Cuticura Soap when I was healed.

(Signed) Miss Bertha Nilsson, Stockholm, Sask.

If you have a good complexion keep it so by using Cuticura Soap daily and Cuticura Ointment occasionally.

For Free Sample Book by Mail Address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. A, Boston, U. S. A." Sold everywhere.

It Costs Something

Every line in a newspaper costs the proprietor something. If it is for the benefit of the individual it should be paid for. If the grocer were asked to contribute groceries to a newspaper, he would refuse. The proprietor of a newspaper must pay for the free advertising it. The beneficiary does not, and yet it is one of the hardest things to be learned by many, that a newspaper has space in its columns to rent and must rent them to live. To give away rent for anything less than living rates is as fatal to a newspaper as for a landlord to furnish rent free.

WEAK BOYS AND GIRLS

It is a mistake to think that anemia is only a girl's complaint. Girls probably show the effect of weak, watery blood more plainly than boys. Delayed development, pale faces, headaches, palpitation, and a feeling of listlessness, call attention to weak blood in the case of girls. But many boys in their teens grow thin and "weedy" and more puny on the face, showing that they have not enough blood. The anemic boy is as likely to become a victim of consumption as the pale, breathless girl with her headaches and worn-out look. The boy in this condition catches cold and he will lose his strength and his health becomes precarious.

To prevent serious disaster to those of the rising generation, let both boys and girls be given the new Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Fills are famous the world over for making. When giving these pills watch how soon they appear to return and how the languid girl or the weak boy becomes full of activity and his power.

Remember that the boy has to develop, too, if he is to make a strong hearty man. Weedy boys and girls have little chance to develop strongly through the new, rich blood Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make. You will then see active boys and girls, instead of weakly children around you.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or may be obtained by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Me und Gott"

The Kaiser Is the Whole Business in Kaiserland

Ever since 1640 and particularly since 1713, the people of Prussia have lived under a rigorous discipline and have been taught that their principal duty consisted in obeying their ruler. In obeying implicitly his commands and those of his underlings, and in paying their taxes. Even now the German ruler is sacrosanct and stands, high above the Delly. God takes merely the second place in the German scheme of state. That may be seen from the fact that, while there are many prosecutions for lese-majeste in Germany, there are very few for blasphemy. Besides, while according to the German penal code, blasphemy is punishable with imprisonment from one day to three years, simple lese-majeste, a verbal insult offered to the ruler, is punishable with imprisonment from two months to five years. The difference is characteristic and highly significant.—J. Ellis Baker in The Nineteenth Century.

Torpedo "Deflectors"

Amazing stories are afloat of a discovery, which makes a torpedo no longer a deadly weapon. It is said that the Germans have discovered a way of deflecting a torpedo from its intended target. Unfortunately they are not true. But the navy keeps up its old plan of pointing the guns to the water, and the navy keeps up its old plan of pointing the guns to the water, and the navy keeps up its old plan of pointing the guns to the water.

Alberta Rich in Manganese Dioxide

Demetrius, worth $54,000,000, have already been discovered in the Cypress Hills, southeast Alberta, amounting to 600,000 tons and this is being sold to the British war effort for $68 and $69 per ton. Mr. Jas. F. Reilly, of Montreal is the engineer, and the story says that And Interests are said to control the enterprise.—Montreal Weekly Witness.

Halibut Going Up

Twenty-two cents a pound has been paid in Vancouver for halibut which three years ago brought from six cents to ten cents a pound. Four hundred thousand pounds of this fish were landed at Prince Rupert, Vancouver and sent to Vancouver.

Saving Labor Expense

Using Mechanical Drivers for Saving Labor on the Farm Is Good Economy

One of the best features of the European war is bound to be a dearth of ordinary labor. This is going to reflect itself in all lines of business, perhaps particularly in the business of farming. It is quite essential, therefore, that the farmer should study out the plan in his main business where manual labor now bears the heaviest burden and see if by chance this burden cannot be reduced. The very apex of the labor load in the grain district of the west comes at threshing time. This is true of both house and field labor. That farmer has solved the extra labor for the house problem with the cook car, the larger farms extending the use of the cook car throughout the harvest season as well as during threshing.

The field labor problem has not been so well solved. The number of men required around the modern threshing machine has not greatly changed during the past twenty-five years. The ultimate solution of diversified and live stock farming is still far from being reached. The problem is to cut the sharp corners and get along with as little labor as we can. But how far should the grain from the machine to the elevator?

It is sufficient to say that nine-tenths of the grain is still done by hand and the back-breaking work of shovelling is going on just as our fathers did it before us. Now there is nothing commendable about hard work in and of itself. Suppose the reader and his hired man are kept busy hauling grain. At threshing prices that means two teams and two men employed at a charge of at least $10 per day. For the average half-section farm this means about $30 per year. Suppose that one of these teams and one of the men could be relieved it would not merely save $15 per year, but if the shovelling work is done by a portable elevator it will save out of the average farm's labor, which is a very considerable item whether one is hiring help or whether one does it himself.

It might be worth while for the farmer trying to rid himself of one of the hardest phases of farm labor to figure out just how much this saving in actual time and money will go toward paying interest charges on a mechanical elevator. This saving in actual time and money will go toward paying interest charges on a mechanical elevator.

How Much Salt?

Rules to Follow in Giving Salt to Cows

Some men seem to think a cow doesn't need any salt, others go to the other extreme and load her down with it, while a third faction strike a happy medium and are boundlessly generous. These are all mistakes. Some mineral matter but not enough. For the dry cow about five ounces per week is the average demand. For the milking cow the average demand is with an additional amount given to the producing cow in direct proportion to the amount of milk produced. Producing twenty pounds of milk per day will require an additional pound of salt per week, or ten ounces per day. The average demand is with an additional amount given to the producing cow in direct proportion to the amount of milk produced.

New Burglar Alarm

Under the trade name of "The Electric Eye," an inventor has produced a new burglar alarm. It consists of a small cell which will give a signal when illuminated by the flame of a match or electric torch. The cell is small and can easily be hidden in the decorations of a safe or piece of furniture and covered with glass. The advantage claimed over the ordinary burglar alarm is that the device will operate as soon as a light is introduced into the dark room, whilst other alarms have to be excited by the breaking of an electric circuit or by mechanical vibrations.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Rev. Fr. Bujalski spent Sunday in Calgary visiting some of his countrymen there.

On Sunday, November 18th, Mr. Wm. Shaw, of Blairmore, will sing at St. Alban's church, Coleman.

The children of the Institutional church greatly enjoyed a hallowe'en party on Wednesday evening.

The old premises of the Coleman Liquor Company will be sold by public auction on November 17th.

A movement is on foot to organize a dancing club in Coleman for the winter months. It is a good idea.

Rev. C. H. Heustis, provincial secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance, is expected to be in Coleman today (Friday).

Messrs. O. E. S. Whiteside and Geo. Kellock were in Calgary Saturday on business connected with the coal situation.

The musical comedy given in the opera house on Saturday evening attracted quite a crowd and was a very good show.

Letters received from Pte. Herb Williams state that he is now taking a course on treatment for gas, after which he expects to go to the front. His brother, Jack, who was wounded some time ago, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant and is back in the trenches again.

H. G. GOODEVE CO., LIMITED
COLEMAN

A meeting of the local Liberals was called for Tuesday evening last for the purpose of reorganizing, but was adjourned till this (Friday) evening.

Mr. R. S. McKibbin, of Calgary, resident superintendent of The Employers Liability Assurance Corporation, Limited, has been transferred to Winnipeg and will remove to that city shortly.

Messrs. H. C. McBurney, C. S. Ouimette, Geo. Clair, T. W. Davies and Capt. Beebe represented The Pass Liberals at the Macleod convention Saturday. Mr. E. A. Neil represented the Coleman Conservatives.

In St. Alban's church on Sunday next services will be held as follows: Holy Communion at 8 a. m., Litany and Holy Communion with sermon at 10.30 a. m. No evening service will be held here, but there will be service at Blairmore at 7.30.

The concert given by the young ladies of Mrs. Graham's class at Frank last week was a great success and netted quite a tidy sum for the church building fund. After the concert the Colemanites present were taken to the parsonage and light refreshments were served by the ladies of Frank.

Last week Mr. A. J. Mitchell received a package from France containing the personal belongings of his son, Pte. Chas. Mitchell, who was killed in action some months ago. The parcel contained an interesting diary, a Testament, a Presbyterian hymn book, some letters and photographs.

The total receipts at the benefit for Mrs. Herbert Ash were $128 from the concert, $25 from the dance, and $15.20 from the sale of cakes, making a grand total of $168.20. The expenses were: Music $30, rent of hall $20, printing $10.00, and rent of dishes $1.00—a total of $61.00, leaving a balance of $107.20.

The dance held in the opera house on Wednesday evening in aid of the French Wounded Emergency Fund was well attended and the occasion was greatly enjoyed by all present. The hall was nicely decorated for the dance, excellent music was provided by the Coleman orchestra, and the floor was in splendid shape. The building was nice and clean and comfortable, and the new stairway leading to the balcony proved such a convenience that everyone wondered why someone had not thought of putting it in before.

Refreshments were contributed by the married ladies, and the work of decorating was done by the young ladies of the town. As we go to press exact returns have not been obtained from all those who had tickets but it is expected the receipts will amount to between $125 and $150.

The Canadian War Contingent Association is raising funds with which to purchase maple sugar for the boys at the front, and has asked the ladies of the local Red Cross Society to make a special effort on that behalf. A ten and pantry sale will therefore be held in the council chamber on Saturday, November 3, commencing at three o'clock for the purpose of assisting in this work, and the support of the citizens generally is asked. This special effort should not be confused in any way with Red Cross work. It is not in any way connected with that organization, except that the members of the Red Cross are taking hold of the maple sugar fund in Coleman.

Mrs. Neil, supervisor of work for the Red Cross Society, wishes to send out a call for workers, either knitting or sewing. Persons who can do this work and who may call at the council chamber any Friday afternoon between the hours of three and half past five o'clock will be gladly welcomed; but if there are any ladies in town who have time to do any work for the Red Cross, and who have not an opportunity of going to the council chamber, work will be taken to their homes for them if they will send in their names or in any way advise Mrs. Neil. There is urgent need of more workers and it is hoped this call will meet with a ready response.

A novel feature in connection with the Military Service act may be the establishment of Canadian exemption tribunals in the United States. When the proclamation calling out the first class was published a similar notice was issued the length and breadth of the United States. Its purpose was that Canadians coming within the class were required to comply with the terms of the proclamation. Canadians resident across the border are urged, wherever possible, to return to Canada for the hearing of their applications for exemption, if such applications have been made. It may, however, be found that where large numbers of Canadians have settled in a particular district it will be more practicable to send a tribunal across the line.

"IDLE WIVES"

"Idle Wives" is the name of a splendid photoplay that will be put on at the Rex theatre next Wednesday evening, November 7th. According to the synopsis of the play, three sets of characters are about to commit acts of folly. They all attend a moving picture theatre, and in a play called "Life's Mirror" see the results of their proposed courses of action.

The three sets of characters are a young girl and her lover on the verge of an unlawful union, a married couple, rich but drifting apart, and the family of a workingman tired of the life in a cheap tenement.

The young girl and her lover following the picture on the screen see the folly of carrying out their previous plans, and instead of the girl being required to live in shame, a happy marriage is the outcome of the lesson taught them during their stay in the theatre.

The two other sets of characters also see, as the story unfolds, the discontent that exists in the life of the rich and poor. They leave the theatre knowing that the bright side of human existence is possible in their lives.

This should be well worth seeing. The admission will be 15c and 25c.
